1990
PUBLIC INTEREST LAW CONFERENCE
Grassroots Strategies for Our Global Future

Thursday, March 1 through Sunday, March 4, 1990
University of Oregon School of Law
Eugene, Oregon
Sponsored by:

Land, Air, Water (LAW)
Western Natural Resources Law Clinic
ABA/Law Student Division

The Wilderness Society
National Wildlife Federation

Eugene, OR 97403
University of Oregon
Law Center
Land, Air, Water
ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

Now in its eighth year, the Public Interest Law Conference has become the premier event of its kind for environmentalists all over the world. Attorneys, scientists, lay citizens and law students gather to learn and share information about solving environmental problems in our local and global communities. The first Conference in 1983 was a modest one-day gathering of about 15 speakers (environmental lawyers and citizens) sharing litigation strategies. This year's Conference features 49 panels covering virtually every aspect of environmental law, with over 140 panelists and speakers. This year's theme: Grassroots Strategies for Our Global Future.

Keynote Speakers:

David Brower, Founder and Chairman, Earth Island Institute. Mr. Brower was the first executive director of the Sierra Club and founder of Friends of the Earth. He is currently involved in the Restoring-the-Earth movement and in urging and planning for United Nations and Nongovernmental Organization conferences on Environmental Restoration and Protection.

Petra Kelly, Green Party Representative, West German Parliament. Member of the Foreign Relations Committee and the “Eurogroup,” Sub-Committee and co-initiator of the Bertrand Russell Campaign for a nuclear free Europe. Ms. Kelly has authored numerous articles and books and received the Alternative Nobel Prize in 1982.

Dr. Jay Hair, President, National Wildlife Federation. Before heading NWF, Dr. Hair administered the Fisheries and Wildlife Sciences Program at North Carolina State University and coordinated the development of the National Fish and Wildlife Policy with the U.S. Department of the Interior. Dr. Hair has received numerous awards for his work in conservation.

Denis Hayes, Chairman Earth Day 1990 and Director of the first Earth Day in 1970. Mr. Hayes founded Environmental Action, was a leading lobbyist on the Clean Air Act of 1970, chaired “Sun Day” and was director of the Solar Energy Research Institute. He has authored more than 100 publications, including Rays of Hope: The Transition to a Post-Petroleum World.

Christopher Stone, Professor of Law at the University of Southern California. Professor Stone teaches International Environmental Law. Among his books are Should Trees Have Standing? and Earth and Other Ethics. Professor Stone serves as a director of the Center of International Law and is a member of the Editorial Advisory Board of Environmental Ethics.

Donald Elliott, General Counsel, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. Mr. Elliott has been a professor of law at the Yale Law School since 1981. He specializes in environmental law and toxic torts and has published extensively in that area.

A Few Other Honored Guests:

Professor Charles Wilkinson, University of Colorado School of Law.

Ms. Stephanie Mills, Environmental Author and Editor.

Dr. William Evans, U.S. Commissioner to the International Whaling Commission.

Professor Carolyn Merchant, Environmental Studies, UC-Berkeley.

Mr. Huey Johnson, Founder, Resource Renewal Institute.

Ms. Indira Jaising, Public Interest Lawyer, India.

Mr. Gert Bastian, Founder, Generals for Peace (Europe).

Ms. Sally Raney, President, American Wildlands.

Mr. Abdul Hakim Nusantara, Chairman, Indonesian Legal Aid Foundation, and WALHI (Environmental Coalition).

Mr. Byron Real, Public Interest Lawyer, Quito, Ecuador.

Mr. Taras Kalinichenko, Environmental Lawyer, USSR.

Mr. Lalanath De Silva, Chairman, Environmental Foundation, Sri Lanka.

REGISTRATION

To register for the Conference, complete the enclosed registration form and return to Land, Air, Water (L.A.W.). Registration for attorneys postmarked before February 22 is $40; late and at the door registration is $50. Citizens and students may register free, and any lawyer in the early years of public interest practice may award her/himself a scholarship. PLEASE MAKE REGISTRATION CHECKS PAYABLE TO “LAND, AIR, WATER.”

CLE credit may be available, depending on your state of practice. Oregon and Washington lawyers please include your bar number on the registration form.

Registration for meals will be accepted until February 22. All are invited to bring their own meals and attend the Lunch and Dinner free of charge.

Free child care, provided by the campus day care service, will be available through preregistration only.

TRANSPORTATION AND ACCOMMODATIONS

Discount airfare is available on United Airlines. To obtain the discount Conference fare, you must call United Airlines at 1-800-521-4041 and refer to account number 445CF for the 1990 Public Interest Law Conference.

Participants with sleeping bags can be accommodated on floors and couches of UC law students. Indicate whether you need accommodations on the registration form. Information about accommodations and special Conference rates at local motels is available upon written request.

ABOUT THE SPONSORS

LAND, AIR, WATER

Land, Air, Water (L.A.W.) is an independent student environmental research group and the oldest environmental law society in the country. L.A.W. students conduct legal research for interested environmental lawyers and citizens' groups, publish the Western Environmental Law Update newsletter, compile the Directory of Environmental Lawyers, and organize this annual conference.

WESTERN NATURAL RESOURCES LAW CLINIC

The Western Natural Resources Law Clinic is affiliated with the Law School's environmental law program. Staff attorneys and law student interns represent clients throughout the United States and abroad in environmental litigation and administrative appeals.

Michael Axline is a professor of law at the University of Oregon School of Law and Co-Director of the Western Natural Resources Law Clinic. Professor Axline was counsel in Thomas v. Peterson (cumulative impacts) and Save Our Ecosystems (worst case analysis). Co-author, Plaintiffs' Guide to Toxic Torts.

John Bonine is a professor of law at the University of Oregon School of Law and Co-Director of the Western Natural Resources Law Clinic. Professor Bonine was counsel in Oregon Environmental Council v. Kunzman (plain English NEPA) and Better Government Association v. Department of State (Freedom of Information Act). Co-author, The Law of Environmental Protection.

FOR MORE INFORMATION

For more information about the Conference, L.A.W., or the University of Oregon Law School's environmental law program, send a Fax message to (503) 868-3985 or call Penny Buell or Steve Koteff at (503) 866-3828.

Speakers do not represent the views of the University, the School of Law, Land, Air, Water, the Clinic, or anyone associated with the Conference. They speak only for themselves. Criticism of an institution because a speaker says something "controversial" or "biased" on its premises is a criticism of the very principal of free speech.
THURSDAY, MARCH 1

12:00-4:00 Registration

12:30-1:45 WELCOMING ADDRESS
- David Brower, Founder and Chairman, Earth Island Institute
- Denis Hayes, Chairman, Earth Day 1990

2:00-3:30 PANELS
- Environmental Ethics for Our Time
- Nuclear Energy and Disposal Issues
- The Unseen Hazards of Groundwater Pollution
- Native Trapping and Animal Rights: The Fur is Flying

3:30-4:00 Break

4:00-5:30 PANELS
- American Wilderness: A Diminishing Resource
- Pesticide Exportation: Tracing the Circle of Poison
- Driftnetting: Stripmining the High Seas
- Corporate Responsibility and Ethical Investment Strategies

7:00-9:00 SLIDE PRESENTATION
- Glendon Brunk—The Last Great Wilderness

FRIDAY, MARCH 2

7:45-5:00 Breaking

8:30-8:45 Announcements

8:45-9:30 ADDRESS
- Donald Elliot, General Counsel, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

10:00-11:30 PANELS
- Recycling: Today's Challenge to a Throw-Away Society
- National Forest Planning: Preserving the Future of America's Heritage
- Toxic Pollution: Shadow on the Land
- Indonesian Environmental Law

11:30-1:00 Free time/Lunch

1:00-2:30 PANELS
- Soviet Environmental Law
- Land Use Strategies for Environmental Preservation
- Tropical Rainforest Preservation
- Biotechnology: High Tech House-of-Cards?

2:30-3:00 Break

3:00-4:30 PANELS
- Emergency Planning and Community Right to Know Act: Public Tools for Awareness
- Indigenous Self-Determination
- Japanese Environmental Law

SATURDAY

8:00-12:00 Registration

8:00-9:30 RUN FOR THE RAINF

8:15-9:45 PANELS
- Environmental Law
- With the Land
- Building NGOs Worldwide
- World Bank Watch
- Attorney Workshop Under Attorney

9:45-10:00 Break

10:00-11:30 PANELS
- White Collar Crime
- Environmental Law
- Wetland or Swamp
- Ancient Forests in the Plunder?
- Public Interest Environmental Law

11:30-12:00 Break

12:00-2:00 LUNCH Erb Memorial

- John Bonine, Western Introductions
- Vandana Shiva, Chair for Science and Technology
- Christopher Stone, Southern California

2:30-4:00 PANELS
- Grazing the Public Anyway?
- International Cons
- Native American S Environment
Species in Trouble
Attorney Workshop: How to Start Your Own Environmental Law Practice

Break

PANELS
- Ecofeminism: Women and the Earth
- Fighting for the Last Great Wilderness: Environmental Protection in Alaska
- Environmental Advocacy and Civil Disobedience
- Environmental Law Around the World: Part II

Break

No Host Bar, Erb Memorial Union

DINNER Erb Memorial Union Ballroom
Mike Axline, Western Natural Resources Law Clinic, Introductions
Jay Hair, President, National Wildlife Federation
Petra Kelly, Green Party Representative, West German Parliament

ENTERTAINMENT

SUNDAY, MARCH 4
Continenta Breakfast, Catered, Law School Lounge

7:45-8:45
PANELS
- The Environmental Movement in Germany
- Regional and Global Atmospheric Pollution Problems
- Union and Environmental Interests: Bridging the Gap
- Environmental Vigilantes

10:15-10:30 Break

10:30-12:00 PANELS
- Environmental Law and Policy in India
- Deep Ecology: Alternatives to the Dominant Paradigm
- Urban Environmental Problems: Restructuring Our Concrete World
- White is Dirty: Dioxin Contamination from Bleach-Kraft Pulp Mills

12:00-12:30 Brown Bag Lunch Pick-up

12:30-2:30 LUNCH AND CLOSING ADDRESSES
Charles Wilkinson, Professor of Law, University of Colorado
Sally Ranney, President, American Wildlands
Barbara Roberts, Secretary of State, Oregon (invited)
THURSDAY, March 1

ENVIRONMENTAL ETHICS FOR OUR TIME
Charles Wilkinson, Moses Lasky Professor of Law, University of Colorado. Professor Wilkinson serves on the Governing Council of The Wilderness Society and has received distinguished teaching awards from his students at Colorado, Oregon, and Michigan.
Christopher Stone. See Keynote Speakers.

NUCLEAR ENERGY AND DISPOSAL ISSUES
Robin Gregory works for Decision Research, Eugene, Oregon, on questions of risk management and environmental policy. Mr. Gregory has been part of a team studying risk perceptions related to the siting of the Yucca Mountain high level nuclear waste repository.

Elizabeth Paul, Executive Director, Snake River Alliance, a grassroots peace organization in Idaho. Ms. Paul has worked in the peace and environmental movement for over 10 years. She has been honored for her work in bringing nuclear waste problems to public attention.

Lee Caldwell, Deputy Attorney General and Chief, Natural Resources Division, Idaho Attorney General’s Office. Ms. Caldwell advises the Idaho Coastal Zone Office on nuclear waste and transportation issues and environmental legislation. Former Assistant Regional Counsel, Region 10, EPA

THE UNSEEN HAZARDS OF GROUNDWATER POLLUTION
Duane Miller, Senior Partner, Miller & Polfe, Sacramento, California. Mr. Miller has won several multimillion dollar verdicts and settlements in toxic tort cases, and limits his practice to that field. Co-author, Litigating Toxic Torts.

Steven Whitcraft, Associate Professor, University of Nevada, Desert Research Institute. Mr. Whitcraft is an Associate, Professor, University of Nevada, Reno. Department of Geosciences. Associate Editor of Water Resources Research, an American Geophysical Union Journal.

Ray Supalda, Professor of Agricultural Economics, University of Nebraska, Lincoln. Significant experience with land use and surface water allocation questions, including serving in two major water rights cases. Research in irrigation management and groundwater policy.

NATIVE TRAPPING AND ANIMAL RIGHTS: THE FUR IS FLYING
Stephen Best, Vice President, International Wildlife Coalition. Mr. Best is currently participating in a campaign banning the importation of wild animal products into the European community. Co-author, Skinned—Activists Condemn the Horrors of the Fur Trade.

Stephen Hazell, Executive Director, Canadian Arctic Resources Committee. Until recently, Mr. Hazell served as general counsel to the Canadian Wildlife Federation, where he initiated and directed the successful litigation against the federal government concerning the Raftery-Atamanda dam in southern Saskatchewan.

Paul Hollingsworth, Spokesperson, Native Animal Brotherhood, an organization working for native and animal welfare. Mr. Hollingsworth recently spoke to the European Parliament regarding the fur trapping issue.

AMERICAN WILDERNESS: A DIMINISHING RESOURCE
Huey Johnson, Founder, Resource Renewal Institute, parent organization for the Water Heritage Trust. Former Western Regional Director for The Nature Conservancy. Founder and first President of the Trust for Public Land and former Secretary of Resources in California.

Brant Calkin, Executive Director, Southern Utah Wilderness Alliance. Mr. Calkin has served as National President of the Sierra Club, Secretary of the New Mexico Department of Natural Resources and Assistant Commissioner of the New Mexico State Land Office.

Karin Sheldon, Senior Counsel, The Wilderness Society. Former staff attorney, Sierra Club Legal Defense Fund. Partner in public interest law firm. Vice President, University of Colorado (1985-86). Adjunct Professor of Law, Denver University, George Washington University.

Andy Stahl, Forester, Sierra Club Legal Defense Fund, Seattle. Mr. Stahl has advocated the position of the Associated Oregon Loggers and the National Wildlife Federation in previous employment. He has testified and assisted in the litigation of the Trinity of northern spotted owl suits.

PESTICIDE EXPORTATION: TRACING THE CIRCLE OF POISON
Sandra Markardt, Pesticides Information Coordinator, Greenpeace USA. Ms. Markardt focuses on U.S. pesticide export policy which allows exportation of banned and never-registered pesticides. Author of a case study of Velsic Chemical Corporation’s export of dichloro and heptachlor.

Charles Siegel, private public interest attorney, Baron & Budd, Dallas. Specializes in toxic tort and personal injury cases. Representing plaintiffs in Alstro & Dow Chemical Co. in Texas.

Monica Moore, Executive Director, Pesticide Action Network, North America Regional Center. Ms. Moore also serves as a steering committee member of the United Nations Convention on Persistent Organic Pollutants.

INDONESIAN ENVIRONMENTAL LAW
Linda Duncan, Environmental Law Advisor, Environmental Management Development Institute (EMD). EMD is a joint project of the Indonesian Ministry of State for Population and Environment and the School for Resource and Environmental Studies, Dalhouse University, Canada.

Abdul Hakim Nusantara, Chairman, Indonesian Legal Aid Foundation. Jakarta. Chairman of WALHI, the Indonesian environmental umbrella group. Represented WALHI in a suit against the government for failure to enforce environmental laws.

Mas Achmad Santosa, Senior Counsel, Indonesian Legal Aid Foundation. Jakarta. Presently pursuing LL.M at Osgoode Hall Law School, Toronto, specializing in environmental law.

SOVIET ENVIRONMENTAL LAW
Vladimir Shestakov, Regional Coordinator, Center for US-USSR Initiatives, San Francisco. Participates in several projects of the Center and other peace and environmental organizations. Main interests are in the sphere of environmental protection and citizen diplomacy. Works only on non-governmental level.

Taras Kalinichenko, Institute of State and Law, Soviet Academy of Sciences. Founder and driving force behind the Association of Peace, Ecology, and Politics, an organization trying to coordinate the efforts of various environmental groups in the Soviet Union.

Konstatin Ryzhbutchhime, student of law, Leningrad University. Mr. Ryzhbutchhime is working to establish a Center for International Environmental Law at Leningrad University.

LAND USE STRATEGIES FOR ENVIRONMENTAL PRESERVATION

Keith Bartholomew, Staff Attorney, 1000 Friends of Oregon. Counsellor in OPB’s suit to comply with statewide planning guidelines before including a project in the Regional Transportation Plan. Former Co-Director of L.A.W.

TROPICAL RAINFOREST PRESERVATION
Randy Hayes, Director, Rainforest Action Network. A leading activist in efforts to halt tropical rainforest destruction worldwide. Mr. Hayes works with regional networks in Africa, Australia and other countries to build a world rainforest movement. Co-produced the award winning film, The Four Corners, A National Sacrifice Area.

Daniel Quinn, Director, Peru Country Program. Latin America Division, The Nature Conservancy. Advised Peruvian conservation organization on institutional development, including communication, fund raising and project development. Major area of expertise: The Peruvian conservation movement.

BIOTECHNOLOGY: HIGH TECH HOUSE-OF-CARDS?
Edward Lee Rogers, private public interest attorney, Washington, D.C. Focusing on environmental and public health issues. Mr. Rogers was also counsel to the Natural Resources Council of Maine. Former General Counsel, Environmental Defense Fund and Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Army.

Michael Pickler, West Coast Director, National Toxics Campaign. Staff to California Biotech Action Council and former Executive Director, Toxics Coordinating Project. Mr. Pickler lectures at the University of California.

Jack Doyle. See Corporate Responsibility panel, Thursday.

EMERGENCY PLANNING AND COMMUNITY RIGHT TO KNOW ACT: PUBLIC TOOLS FOR AWARENESS
Eileen Nie, Project Director. MDI is a non-profit organization on Bhopal, a program of the Consumer Policy Institute. Working with community, environment, firefighter and labor groups to encourage public participation in local emergency planning committees established by SARE.

Gerald Pepe, Ph.D. Environmental Toxicologist, Environmental Quality Division, National Wildlife Federation. Former Professor, Miami University of Ohio. Author of a citizens’ guide to groundwater protection; co-author of a guide to emergency planning; co-author of the Toxic500.

FRIDAY, March 2
RECYCLING: TODAY'S CHALLENGE TO A THROWN-AWAY SOCIETY

Susan Gulick, Waste Reduction and Recycling Manager, King County Solid Waste Division, Washington. Former policy analyst for the Environmental Affairs Committee, Washington House of Representatives.

Steven Price, Owner, Intellec Fabri, a business specializing in the design of innovative equipment to assist recyclers in gaining value added dollars for their collectibles.

NATIONAL FOREST PLANNING: PRESERVING THE FUTURE OF AMERICA'S HERITAGE
Harry Lorne Anderson, Chairman, Native Forest Council (NFC), a national organization of business and professional people dedicated to preserving the remaining public and private forests in the United States. NFC publishes Forest Voice, a nationally distributed newspaper.

John Osborn, M.D., Coordinator, Inland Empire Public Lands Council. Dr. Osborn has organized and written broad-based appeals of forest plans, and has worked for Forest Service reform through the Congressional appropriations process.

Tom Kovacilly, Forest Supervisor, Nez Perce National Forest, Idaho. Mr. Kovacilly has been with the U.S. Forest Service since 1962, serving as Forest Supervisor for the last eight years. He has received a Special Achievement Award for Forest Management and Land Ethic (1989).

TOXIC POLLUTION: SHADOW ON THE LAND

Pat McGinley, Professor of Law, West Virginia University, College of Law. Visiting Professor of Law, University of Oregon (1989). Litigation experience involves mining, water pollution issues and toxic waste issues.

Ted Smith, Founder and Executive Director, Silicon Valley Toxics Coalition (SVTC), a national leader in documenting the problems of high-tech toxics. SVTC helps develop the country's first hazardous materials ordinance and first toxic gas storage law.

INDIGENOUS SELF-DETERMINATION
Michael M'Gonigle, Professor of Natural Resource Management at Simon Fraser University in British Columbia. Chairman of Greenpeace Canada. Professor M'Gonigle has been personally active in forest, wilderness and native rights issues for many years.

Rory SnowArrow Faustess, Professor of Native American Studies, University of California, Berkeley.

Nilu Cayqueo, Coordinator, South and Mesa American Indian Information Center. Coordinator of the "500 Years of Indian Resistance," a Continental Indian Conference held in Quito, Ecuador in 1989. Mr. Cayqueo is a Mapuche Indian.

S. James Anaya, Professor, University of Iowa, College of Law. Former Director, Law Project of the National Indian Youth Council. Professor Anaya specializes in international human rights law, with emphasis on the rights of indigenous peoples.

JAPANESE ENVIRONMENTAL LAW
Tsuneotoshi Yamamura, Professor, Kobe University, Osaka, Japan. Founder, Citizens' Alliance Saving the Atmosphere. Author, Law and Strategies of Environmental Protection.

James Griffin, Director, Japan Environmental Exchange.

Toshiro Ueyanagi, private public interest attorney, Bunkyo-Sogo Law Offices, Tokyo. Involved in workers' compensation (especially death from overwork), and international environmental law, including the pollution-export case of Mitsubishi Chemical—Asian Rats in Malaysia.

DEBATE: ANIMAL RESEARCH OR ANIMAL RIGHTS?
Gary Francione, Professor of Law, Rutgers Law School, Newark, New Jersey. Professor of animal environmental law, administrative law, law and science, and animal rights. He has represented animal rights groups and activists around the country.

Tita Zierer, Coordinator, Animals in Research Department, Toronto Humane Society. Responsible for supervising the Society's "Research by the Pound" campaign and the "A New Look at Designated animals for research and testing: the case for an 'Eye' campaign" (cosmetic testing).

Stephen Carroll, Executive Director, Incurably Ill for Animal Research (iFAR), Chicago. A burn victim at the age of 19, Mr. Carroll speaks from experience. He believes that his life was saved by medical advances made possible by responsible animal research.

Jim Parker, Public Information Officer, Oregon Regional Primate Research Center, Portland. Doctorate degree in religious studies. Professor of and writer on religious studies. Former minister.

ENVIRONMENTAL LAW AROUND THE WORLD: PART I
Philippe Sands, Barrister, London, England. Visiting Professor of Law, Boston University. Working with women in Bangladesh to bring human rights issues to the attention of the Economic and Social Commission of the U.N.

Linda Duncan, See Indonesian panel.

Indira Jaising, See India Panel, Sunday.

THE ALASKA OIL SPILL: REPARATION AND RESTITUTION AFTER THE DISASTER
Zygmuny Plater, Professor of Law, Boston College Law School, Coordinator of Alaska's Exxon-Valdez Oil Spill Commission. Professor Plater was lead counsel forolkini in TVA v. Hill and the extended litigation over the endangered "Small Darter."

Eric Jorgensen, Staff Attorney, Sierra Club Legal Defense Fund, Juneau, Alaska. Mr. Jorgensen is primarily involved in litigation stemming from the Exxon-Valdez oil spill. Edited The Poisoned Well, a book about groundwater contamination.

Dr. Robert LeResche, Executive Director, Alaska Energy Authority, and State Oil Spill Coordinator. Former Commissioner, Alaska Department of Natural Resources and Chief of Habitat Protection in the Alaska Department of Fish and Game.

Ralph Johnson, Professor of Law, University of Washington, Seattle. Member, National Academy of Sciences, Committee to Review the Outer Continental Shelf. Member, Environmental Studies Program: Socioeconomics Panel. Member, Alaska Sea Grant Legal Research Team.

AFRICAN ELEPHANT EXTINCTION AND THE IVORY TRADE
Sally Ranney, President, American Wildlands. Expertise: wildlife resources, public land policy and recreation economics relating to protection of natural systems. Consultant, NGOs, private industry, Africa. Founding Board Member, Executive Committee, Wilderness Research Foundation.
SUNNY SATURDAY, March 3
ENVIRONMENTAL PROBLEMS IN THE SOUTH: NOT GONE WITH THE WIND
James Blackburn, Jr., Professor of Law, Rice University; Chairman, Galveston Bay Foundation. Counsel for Calhoun County Resource Watch Coalition, Advocating a Safe Environment (CASE), and Citizens Against a Polluted Environment (CAPE).
William Fontenot, Environmental Specialist, Louisiana Attorney General's Office. Mr. Fontenot provides assistance to individuals and groups on various environmental problems. During the last few years, he has helped to organize more than 200 citizens groups in Louisiana and 30 other states. Former Director, Louisiana Wildlife Federation.

LOBBYING THE DECISIONMAKERS: A VOICE FOR THE ENVIRONMENT
Donald Fellmann, Associate Counsel for Governmental Affairs, The Wilderness Society. Lobbying U.S. Congress on budget, appropriations, and public land issues. Former legislative counsel to U.S. Representative Tony Coelho and legislative assistant to U.S. Senator Walter Huddleston.

SUSAN TIXIER, Associate Executive Director, Southern Utah Wilderness Alliance. Founder, New Mexico Environmental Law Center. Mr. Tixier has lobbied at the state and federal level for Conservation Voters Alliance and the Sierra Club. Former environmental policy aide to New Mexico Governor Toney Anaya.

BUILDING NGOs WORLDWIDE
Diane Wood, Vice President, Latin America and Caribbean Programs, World Wildlife Fund. Former Director of World Wildlife Fund's Non Governmental Organization Programs. Also worked at the International Institute for Environment and Development (IIEC), developing and directing IIEC's NGO Program.

ATTOYNEY WORKSHOP: HOW TO START YOUR OWN ENVIRONMENTAL LAW PRACTICE
Grove Burnett, private public interest attorney, Glorieta, New Mexico. Represents national, state and local environmental organizations. Specializes in Forest Service litigation and enforcement actions under the CWA, NEPA and CAN.

ECOFEMINISM: WOMEN AND THE EARTH
Vandana Shiva. See Keynote Speakers.

FIGHTING FOR THE LAST GREAT WILDERNESS: ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION
Rex Black, Wolvishko Director, Northern Alaska Environmental Center. Primarily involved in public lands and coastal issues in the northern two-thirds of Alaska and in the Arctic National Wildlife refuge. Also involved in placer mining and water quality issues.

ENVIRONMENTAL ADVOCACY AND CIVIL DISOBEDIENCE
Steve Kallick, Staff Attorney, Southeast Alaska Conservation Council, Juneau. Currently litigating against the State of Alaska over forest management. Actively involved in a campaign to pass the Tongass Timber Reform Act. Member, State of Alaska Board of Forestry.

WHITE COLLAR CRIME: CRIMINAL PROSECUTION OF ENVIRONMENTAL VIOLATIONS
Peter Sorenson, private public interest attorney, Eugene, Oregon. Focuses on Clean Air, Clean Water and Safe Drinking Water cases. Won $266,000 herbicide damage award in a three-week jury trial, 1989.

ENVIRONMENTAL LAW AROUND THE WORLD: PART II
Nicola Pain, Principal Solicitor, Environmental Defender's Office (EDO), Sydney, Australia. The EDO is Australia's only public interest environmental law firm. Ms. Pain is involved in projects opposing pulp mills which produce dioxins and hazardous waste pollution.

SUNDAY, March 4
THE ENVIRONMENTAL MOVEMENT IN GERMANY
Petra Kelly. See Keynote Speakers.
WETLAND OR SWAMP: BY ANY NAME AN ECOSYSTEM

David Ortmann, Northwest Representative, Friends of the Earth. Currently reviews all CWA section 404 permits issued by Northwest Corps of Engineers districts and has written for the National Wetlands Newsletter. Board member of the national Coast Alliance.

Susann Mauermann, Environmental Planner, Wetlands Section, Washington State Department of Ecology. Formerly with Ecology's Shorelines Management Section. Responsible for developing policies and standards for local government wetlands protection programs.

ANCIENT FORESTS IN THE NORTHWEST: CAN WE STOP THE PLUNDER?
Victor Sier, Managing Attorney, Sierra Club Legal Defense Fund, Seattle. Mr. Sier has litigation cases under most of the federal environmental laws, including lawsuits involving pesticides and public land management, and has represented numerous environmental organizations in Spotted Owl and Ancient Forest litigation.

Andy Kerr, Director of Conservation, Oregon Natural Resources Council, a national coalition of conservation, sport, business and education concerns interested in wise use of Oregon's forests, waters and natural resources.

Larry Tutt, Director, Oregon State Office of the Wilderness Society. Mr. Tutt is a former member of the Deschutes County Board of Commissioners in Oregon and has served as Finance Manager for the Oregon State Housing Division.

PUBLIC INTEREST ENVIRONMENTAL LAW IN ECUADOR
Byron Real, President, CORDAVI (Corporation for Defense of Life, Quito, Ecuador). Counsel in laws defending wildlife areas of the Amazon rainforests.

Michael Silva, attending Chicago Kent Law School as a Fulbright scholar, works for the Corporation for Defense of Life (CORDAVI) in Quito, Ecuador and has written on environmental law in Ecuador.

GRAZING THE PUBLIC DOMAIN: WHO'S LAND IS IT ANYWAY?
Roy Elicker, Counsel, National Wildlife Federation—Paciific Northwest Natural Resources Center. The Center's major focus is on public lands management on U.S. Forest Service and Bureau of Land Management lands.

Joseph Feller, Associate Professor of Law, Arizona State University. Professor Feller teaches Natural Resources Law, Environmental Law and Property, and is currently involved in field research and administrative litigation concerning management of livestock grazing on federal lands.

Hugh Harper has worked for thirty-five years in wildlife habitat and livestock grazing management for state and federal agencies. Mr. Harper is on the Board of Directors of the Golden Eagle Chapter of the Audubon Society and serves on the Advisory Council of the Boise, Idaho BLM District.

INTERNATIONAL CONSERVATION ISSUES
Toby Vigod, Executive Director, Canadian Environmental Law Association. Case work focuses on toxic chemicals, hazardous waste and pesticides law. Faculty member, Queen's University, School of Law. Ms. Vigod has written extensively on environmental law.

Vawter Parker, Coordinating Attorney, Sierra Club Legal Defense Fund, San Francisco, California.

Lalashan De Silva, Chairman, Environmental Foundation, Sri Lanka. Founded the first public interest law firm in Sri Lanka. Mr. De Silva has appeared in public interest litigation involving wildlife, coast conservation and nuisance law.

Durwood Zaelke, Director, Centre for International Environmental Law, London and Washington, D.C. Senior Research Fellow at the School of Law, King's College, London and Adjunct Professor, Scholl in Residence at the Wayne State College of Law, American University.

AMERICAN SPIRITUALITY AND THE ENVIRONMENT
Steve Moore, Senior Staff Attorney, Native American Rights Fund, Boulder, Colorado. Director, Indian Law Support Center. Area of emphasis: native religious and cultural resources rights.

REGIONAL AND GLOBAL ATMOSPHERIC POLLUTION PROBLEMS
Armin Rosenzweig, President, Pacific Energy and Resources Center. Mr. Rosenzweig lectures on environmental law and natural resources law, University of California, Berkeley.

Daniel Dudek, Senior Economist, Environmental Defense Fund (EDF). Responsible for EDF's policy research on stratospheric ozone depletion and the implications of global warming. Most recently, Mr. Dudek led the EDF team credited with developing President Bush's acid rain program.

Robert Yuhno, Attorney, Environmental Defense Fund. Specializes in air quality issues in the West, including acid rain, visibility protection, air toxics, uranium mining and milling, and health effects of air pollution.

UNION AND ENVIRONMENTAL INTERESTS: BRIDGING THE GAP
Len Brackett, Chairman, Forest Resource Committee of the Timber Framers Guild of North America. Mr. Brackett coordinated the recent position taken by the Guild's Board calling for sounder management of the nation's old growth forest resources.

Greg Melnchuk, Occupational Health and Safety Officer, British Columbia. Knowledgeable on current forestry and pulp pollution issues relating to worker health and safety. Member, Pulp, Paper and Woodworkers of Canada, affiliate to the Canadian Confederation of Unions.

Judi Bari, Secretary, IWW Local #1, Ukiah, California. Ms. Bari is an Earth First organizer working with local timber workers to save old growth trees and fight timber company practices in the Redwood areas of California. Former labor organizer, United Postal Workers.

ENVIRONMENTAL VIGILANTES
Roy Proctor, citizen activist. Mr. Proctor engages in solo efforts to identify violations regarding the Clean Water Act, waste treatment facilities and wetlands. He has brought suit against the Chief of the Army Corps of Engineers.

Vandana Shiva. See Keynote Speakers.

Armin Rosenzweig. See Atmospheric Pollution panel.

DEEP ECOLOGY: ALTERNATIVES TO THE DOMINANT PARADIGM

URBAN ENVIRONMENTAL PROBLEMS: RESTRUCTURING OUR CONCRETE WORLD
William McDonough. Architect, Received important design commissions including the national headquarters for the Environmental Defense Fund in New York, and an urban development project in Warsaw, Poland based on ecological planning principles.

WHITE IS DIRTY: DIOXIN CONTAMINATION FROM BLEACH-KRAFT PULPMILLS
Dr. Mary O'Brien. Staff Scientist, Northwest Coalition for Alternatives to Pesticides. Dr. O'Brien is editor of the Journal of Pesticide Reform and holds a Ph.D in Botany. Has traveled to Australia and Canada to help citizens deal with toxic pollution issues from pulp mills.

John Bonine. See Natural Resources Law Clinic description.

Renate Kroese. Pulp and Paper Mill Coordinator, Greenpeace International. Ms. Kroese has been involved with pulp and dioxin issues for fifteen years. Author, Household Chemicals and Environmental Alternatives.